NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

J & J SPORTS PRODUCTIONS, INC.,

Plaintiff,

v.

JESUS SEGURA,

Defendant.

Case No. 4:17-cv-05335-YGR (KAW)

ORDER REGARDING MOTION FOR DEFAULT JUDGMENT; ORDER
SETTING HEARING ON MOTION FOR DEFAULT JUDGMENT

Re: Dkt. No. 21

On February 9, 2018, Plaintiff J & J Sports Productions, Inc. filed a Motion for Default Judgment, which was referred to the undersigned for report and recommendation. (Dkt. No. 21.) All briefing shall be in compliance with Civil Local Rule 7, including opposition and reply filing deadlines. However, if no opposition is filed by the deadline under Rule 7, Plaintiff shall instead file a proposed order by the reply deadline. The submission shall be structured as outlined in Attachment A below and include all relevant legal authority and analysis necessary to establish the case. Plaintiff shall also email the proposed findings in Microsoft Word (.docx) format to kawpo@cand.uscourts.gov. No chambers copies of the proposed order need to be submitted.

Should Plaintiff seek the recovery of attorneys' fees and costs, it is ordered to file a supplemental brief not to exceed 8 pages, plus any supporting declaration(s), also by the reply filing deadline. As such, the undersigned expects the attorneys' fees and costs analysis to be included in the proposed order.

The hearing on the motion for default judgment is set for April 5, 2018 at 1:30 p.m. in Courtroom 4, 1301 Clay Street, Oakland, California.

INTRODUCTION

(Relief sought and disposition.)

I. BACKGROUND

(The pertinent factual and procedural background, including citations to the Complaint and record. Plaintiff(s) should be mindful that only facts in the Complaint are taken as true for purposes of default judgment; therefore, Plaintiff(s) should cite to the Complaint whenever possible.)

II. LEGAL STANDARD

(Include the following standard)

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 55(b)(2) permits a court to enter a final judgment in a case following a defendant's default. Shanghai Automation Instrument Co. v. Kuei, 194 F. Supp. 2d 995, 999 (N.D. Cal. 2001). Whether to enter a judgment lies within the court's discretion. Id. at 999 (citing Draper v. Coombs, 792 F.2d 915, 924-25 (9th Cir. 1986)).

Before assessing the merits of a default judgment, a court must confirm that it has subject matter jurisdiction over the case and personal jurisdiction over the parties, as well as ensure the adequacy of service on the defendant. See In re Tuli, 172 F.3d 707, 712 (9th Cir. 1999). If the court finds these elements satisfied, it turns to the following factors ("the Eitel factors") to determine whether it should grant a default judgment:

(1) the possibility of prejudice to the plaintiff, (2) the merits of plaintiff's substantive claim, (3) the sufficiency of the complaint, (4) the sum of money at stake in the action[,] (5) the possibility of a dispute concerning material facts[,] (6) whether the default was due to excusable neglect, and (7) the strong policy underlying the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure favoring decision on the merits.

Eitel v. McCool, 782 F.2d 1470, 1471-72 (9th Cir. 1986) (citation omitted). Upon entry of default, all factual allegations within the complaint are accepted as true, except those allegations relating to the amount of damages. TeleVideo Sys., Inc. v. Heidenthal, 826 F.2d 915, 917-18 (9th Cir. 1987). Where a default judgment is granted, the scope of relief "must not differ in kind from, or exceed in amount, what is demanded in the pleadings.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 54(c).

III. DISCUSSION

A. Jurisdiction and Service of Process

(Include the following standard)

In considering whether to enter default judgment, a district court must first determine whether it has jurisdiction over the subject matter and the parties to the case. In re Tuli, 172 F.3d 707, 712 (9th Cir. 1999) (“When entry of judgment is sought against a party who has failed to plead or otherwise defend, a district court has an affirmative duty to look into its jurisdiction over both the subject matter and the parties.”).

i. Subject Matter Jurisdiction

(Establish the basis for the Court’s subject matter jurisdiction, including citations to relevant case law and United States Code provisions.)

ii. Personal Jurisdiction

(Establish the basis for the Court’s personal jurisdiction, including citations to relevant legal authority, specific to each defendant. If seeking default judgment against any out-of-state defendants, this shall include a minimum contacts analysis under Schwarzenegger v. Fred Martin Motor Co., 374 F.3d 797, 802 (9th Cir. 2004)).

iii. Service of Process

(Establish the adequacy of the service of process on the party against whom default is requested, including relevant provisions of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 4.)

B. Application to the Case at Bar

(A detailed analysis of each individual Eitel factor, separated by numbered headings. Factors 2 (merits of substantive claims) and 3 (sufficiency of complaint) may be listed and analyzed under one heading. Plaintiff(s) shall include citations to cases that are factually similar, preferably within the Ninth Circuit.)

IV. RELIEF SOUGHT

(An analysis of any relief sought, including a calculation of damages, attorneys’ fees, etc., with citations to relevant legal authority.)

1           1.       Damages

2       (As damages alleged in the complaint are not accepted as true, the proposed findings must
3       provide (a) legal authority establishing entitlement to such damages, and (b) citations to evidence
4       supporting the requested damages.)

5           2.       Attorney's Fees

6       (If attorney's fees and costs are sought, the proposed findings shall include the following: (1)
7       Evidence supporting the request for hours worked, including a detailed breakdown and
8       identification of the subject matter of each person's time expenditures, accompanied by actual
9       billing records and/or time sheets; (2) Documentation justifying the requested billing rates, such
10      as a curriculum vitae or resume; (3) Evidence that the requested rates are in line with those
11      prevailing in the community, including rate determinations in other cases of similarly complex
12      litigation, particularly those setting a rate for the plaintiff's attorney; and (4) Evidence that the
13      requested hours are reasonable, including citations to other cases of similarly complex litigation
14      (preferably from this District).

15          3.       Costs

16      (Any request for costs must include citations to evidence supporting the requested costs and 17      relevant legal authority establishing entitlement to such costs.)

18                               V.    CONCLUSION

19      (Disposition, including any specific award amount(s) and judgment.)
